Dear Ms. Barshefsky:

No one is immune, as you well know, from resistant bacteria and viruses. As one who received his degree in Bacteriology from U.C.L.A., I urge you to persuade President Clinton not to protest the decision to prohibit livestock producers from routinely adding antibiotics to animal feed.

Even our most powerful and newest antibiotics are encountering resistance, so it is vital for our producers to refrain from their use—we're all vulnerable.

You've been such a strong advocate for our country on trade, we hope that you will be an advocate for this very important issue.

Thank you.

Very truly yours,

Donna Salem
